HAZEL BRANCH | 150

Designed by Jacob Rudbeck

Hazel Branch is where shapes of nature meet in a functional and sleek design. Its slim shape and the design's floating expression make Hazel Branch perfect for hanging above the dining table, kitchen counter or in a conference room, offering a practical yet subtle lighting solution. Hazel Branch has a built-in LED panel with a soft white diffuser that ensures glare-free light. The lamp is compatible with lighting tracks, and two discreet buttons on the lamp's top make it possible for you to adjust both the light temperature and intensity to match your specific needs or the desired atmosphere.

The buttons and the panel in steel or brass will, with their reflective properties, create interesting plays with light and shadow and add depth and intrigue to the design and surroundings.

Hazel Branch is available in white with white textile cords or in black with black textile cords. With its elegant steel or brass details, Hazel Branch will add a sophisticated touch to any home or office.
