Silhouette Table Lamp

A sculptural table lamp with an asymmetrical idiom, designed in the 1950s by the internationally renowned lighting designer, Svend Aage Holm-Sørensen. With its elegant structure, the Silhouette provides excellent indirect light, a characteristic of other iconic lamps of the era. The Silhouette table lamp adds character to its surroundings with its tilted-back, oblique shade and indirect lighting, achieved via reflection from the small upturned light source against the wide metal shade. The result is a timeless study in light and asymmetry, with added details in solid brass.

Choose from several colour combinations - from self- to multi-coloured - in exclusive silky matt quality paint, which guarantees an extraordinarily beautiful and durable surface.
